

April Fools

April 1, 2020

Read Matthew 28: 5-6

The angel said to the women, “Do not be afraid! I know you are looking for Jesus, who was nailed to a cross. He isn’t here! God has raised him to life, just as Jesus said he would. Come, see the place where his body was lying.”

God’s April Fool’s Joke

Although Jesus dying for our sins is no joke, just imagine what the devil was thinking when all of this was going on. You can imagine the devil probably thought he’d won when Jesus was crucified. The devil must’ve laughed when Joseph of Arimathea took Jesus’ body off the cross and put it in a grave. The devil must’ve rejoiced when the disciples were weeping and when the women came to the tomb to anoint Jesus’ body. But then the angel rolled the stone away. What if the angel had then said, ‘April fools!’ Imagine how embarrassed devil must have felt. The real joke was on the devil. God raised Jesus from the dead and we will never have to fear death or the devil again. Easter is a wonderful and very practical joke on the devil! April fools! Christ is risen! Although it may not be Easter yet, we have April Fool’s Day as we look forward to Easter.

Here are a few simple April Fool’s “Tricks” you can try at home.

Turn All Apps into Kittens

If you can get access to a friend or coworker’s phone, just launch the website Iphoneception on their browser and switch all of their app shortcuts into adorable kitty faces.

This is an especially brutal April Fool’s prank for somebody who isn’t a big fan of cats. But, at the end of the day, who can really be mad at a cute kitty?

Tape Over the Sensors

Want to mess with somebody’s favorite TV or computer without doing any permanent damage? It’s all about the sensors, baby. Just attach a tiny piece of tape over the laser sensor on the underside of their remote or mouse, which will (temporarily) block the signal. Make sure it’s the right color—if the remote is black and you don’t have any black tape, use a sharpie to color in it—and then leave it out and wait for the confusion.

Krispy Kreme Veggies

Replace a food that everyone is excited to have and to eat, until they open it to find it’s been replaced by something else. (Example: Carrots instead of Donuts) Nothing tastes as sad as cauliflower when you were expecting something glazed with sprinkles.
